SECRETARY DANIELS TO ADDRESS ALUMNI AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Annual Business Meeting of Alumni Association Will Be Held Next Tuesday.

TO NOMINATE THREE TRUSTEES.

Dean Howard L. Hodgkins, Secretary of the Alumni Association of the University, last week sent out over two thousand notices of the coming business meeting and annual banquet of the Association to alumni all over the country. Included in the notices were statements of the registration in the University and ballots for the nomination of three men as alumni members of the Board of Trustees.

The annual business and social meeting of the Alumni Association will be held at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening, April 13, in the Assembly Hall of the Arts and Sciences Department. At this meeting officers for the coming year will be elected, and the report of retiring officers will be heard. All graduates, whether members of the Alumni Association or not, are invited to be present with ladies or other guests. At the conclusion of the business meeting, the building will be thrown open for inspection and light refreshments will be served. There is no charge but to facilitate arrangements with the caterer, alumni are requested to notify the secretary of their coming.

The Honorable Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; the Honorable Henry White, former Ambassador to France; the Honorable David Jayne Hill, former Ambassador to Germany; the Honorable Philander P. Claxton, Commissioner of Education, and Admiral Charles H. Stockton, will be among the speakers at the Annual Banquet of the Association to be held at Rauscher's Monday evening, April 19.

An informal reception will be held from 7:15 to 7:45 and dinner will be served at 7:45. It is hoped that the women graduates will attend the banquet this year, and to them is extended the same cordial invitation and urgent invitation as to the men to subscribe to the dinner. Their presence at the banquet last year added much to the pleasure of the evening. The cost will be $3 a plate and alumni may purchase tickets for personal guests at the same rate. Dinner subscriptions may be paid to the Treasurer, John B. Larner, 902 F St., or to the Secretary.

Three vacancies on the Board of Trustees are to be filled by alumni of the University, two being caused by the expiration of the terms of Theodore J. Noyes and Alexander T. Stuart and one by the death of B. Aldis Browne. The nominating ballot contains the names of Theodore W. Noyes, '77, Editor, the Evening Star, and President of the Alumni, 1891-2; Melville Church, '79, Patent Lawyer and Professor of Patent Law, 1895-1915; Joseph Stewart, '84, Second Assistant Postmaster-General; Dr. D. Olin Leech, '87, a physician and present president of the alumni; Ernest L. Thurston, '93, Superintendent of the Washington Public Schools; Walter W. Warwick, '95, Assistant Comptroller of the Treasury; Percival Hall, '98, President of the Columbia Institution for the Deaf; El. Roger Boyle, '99, civil engineer, and Stanton C. Peelle, '99, lawyer. The names of the six candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be placed on the second nominating ballot and the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be recommended to the Board of Trustees for election as alumni members of the Board.

NOTICE!

Senior Classes.

The Senior Marshals for Commencement will be elected by the Association of Class Presidents at its next meeting, Monday, April 26. Each Senior Class should elect a nominee whom they wish to be considered by the Association. The election should be held at such time that the name of the nominee may be in the hands of the Secretary of the Association not later than April 19.

Men chosen for the office of Marshal are supposed to be the men who have done the most for the University and for the various student activities. The senior classes should therefore nominate a man who besides being popular in his class has done something for the good of the University at large. Nominations should be sent to the Secretary of the Association, New Masonic Temple.

Former Chemistry Students Organize, Adopt Constitution and Elect Officers.

TO HOLD ANNUAL REUNION.

At a meeting held in the Medical School, Wednesday evening, March 24, the Association of Former Chemistry Students of the George Washington University was formally organized, a constitution adopted, and officers elected to serve until October 1, 1915. The officers elected are: President, J. Norman Taylor; Vice-President, Harry W. Houghton; Secretary, Edwin H. Ingersoll; Treasurer, Arthur S. Thatcher; Registrar, Elmer Stewart. These officers together with two members, chosen one each by and from the students receiving the degree of B. S. in Chemistry, M. S. in Chemistry or Ph. D. in Chemistry of the two most recently graduated classes, form the Board of Governors. The two additional members have not yet been elected, but their election has been provided for and will occur in the near future.

Prof. Munroe attended the meeting and expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the organization. He also spoke of the forthcoming Pan-American Scientific Congress and of the opportunities which Central America and South America offer to chemists.

The Association plans to assist the General Alumni Association not only by maintaining interest in the University among its members but by interesting the general public in the efficient work which the University is accomplishing. It has been suggested that one function of the Association could be to interest manufacturers in the establishment at the University of scholarships for chemical research. The Association is also in back of the movement on foot to obtain a separate building in which to give the chemistry courses—one designed and equipped for chemical work alone.

The Association is now preparing a list containing the names and addresses of all former chemistry students of the University, of which there are about a thousand. To each of them will be sent a letter stating the

END SEASON WITH VICTORY OVER TEMPLE

Co-ed Basketeers Win Final Game From Philadelphians Before Large Crowd.

FINAL SCORE, 30 TO 17.

Before a host of admirers, packing the Epiphany gym, mostly with members of the other sex, the girls varsity basketball team staged a fitting finale to a most successful season by winning from the co-ed team of Temple University, Philadelphia, by the score of 30 to 17, on Saturday evening, March 27. Despite the threat of a defeat to mar a perfect record for the season the co-eds were out in front all the way and won a clean-cut victory.

It was the second win from Temple University this season. On their northern trip in February the Hatchette squad was barely able to nose out a victory by three points, 21 to 18. Spurred on by the desire of revenge for that defeat the Philadelphians fought hard and gamely but were no match for the Buff and Blue sextet.

The game was hotly contested throughout. For several minutes after the first toss-up neither side was able to make a goal. Temple was the first to cage a basket, but the score was tied soon after when Theodosia Seibold dropped one through the ring from a difficult angle. From then on the lead saw-sawed from one side to the other throughout the greater part of the first period. Toward the end of the half George Washington took a spurt and both forwards made field goals in rapid succession. The half ended with the score 20 to 8 in favor of the home team.

The second half started with both sides more determined than ever to win. As a result the guarding was so close that few scores resulted. The visitors came within one of making as many points as the Buff and Blue team in this period. However, the comfortable lead obtained in the first half was never threatened. In this half Eleanor Reeve was twice knocked to the floor and forced to retire from the contest after gamely sticking to her post. In the resulting shift Agnes Carter came into the game for the last few minutes of play.

It is impossible to pick out any particular star of the game, individual play being subordinated to teamwork by every player. From the toss-up the ball was in George Washington's hands almost all the time. Ella Gardner at center generally managed to get the sphere from her opponent and it was relayed to the forwards by Luella Field at side-center. Both forwards were shooting well, some of the goals made by Miss Seibold being phenomenal. Although handicapped by superior weight and height of their opponents Misses Hotchkiss and Tyndall at guard were successful in keeping them from finding the baskets. For the visitors, Miss Morrison at forward and Miss Gates at center excelled. The feature of the game was the strong defensive play of Homer Shaver, varsity guard, as linesman. Despite the efforts of both sides to carry the game to him he stood his ground well and repulsed the attacks. Mike Mc-

MEETING OF THE RIFLE CLUB.

E. CLARENCE RICE,

CLASS PRESIDENTS MEET.

To Take Second Vote on Single Tax and to Elect Senior Marshals at Next Meeting.

The Association of Class Presidents met last Thursday evening, April 1, in the Medical Building, with President M. R. Walton in the chair. Following the report of the committee on the referendum vote on the student activity single tax showing that only 552 students had voted of which 522 were in favor and 30 were opposed, it was decided to hold another ballot in every department of the University in co-operation with the Director of Athletics, after first ascertaining the systems in force in other large universities throughout the country. Questionnaires were sent out last Friday to one hundred and fifty of the largest universities and when their replies have been received the second referendum vote of the student body will be taken, probably during the last week of the month.

At the request of Admiral Stockton, it was decided to elect the three student Marshals for the commencement exercises, a Grand Marshal and two assistants, at the next meeting of the Association which will be held Monday, April 26. It was voted that each senior class in the University be asked to select one of its members as a nominee for the positions, from which nominees the Association will select the three Marshals.

A committee consisting of James F. Pierce, Fred M. Fogle and Russell L. Duvall, was appointed to draw up a new constitution for the Association in place of the original which has been lost and also a model class constitution to be adopted by all entering classes.

Donald also played a "fast" game as timekeeper.

LAW SCHOOL SHOCKED BY SUDDEN DEATH OF F. W. CUNNINGHAM

Popular Member of Freshman Class Succumbs to Pneumonia After Short Illness.

FROM SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA.

From out our dusty plodding throng—
Brothers, our journey through—
Behold! God hath selected one,
The best of those we knew.

C. H. B.

The sudden death of Frederick Wright Cunningham, a member of the Freshman Law Class of the University, who died of pneumonia at the University Hospital, Thursday, March 25, has brought the deepest sorrow not only to the members of his family in Shreveport, La., but to his fellow-students and instructors in the Law School, to his friends and co-workers in the Library of Congress, and especially to his brothers in the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

His death came after an illness of less than ten days the latter part of which he spent at the University Hospital under the care of Dr. Daniel C. Borden of the University Staff. Simple funeral rites were held at the Delta Tau Delta House, Saturday morning, March 27, presided over by the Reverend Ulysses G. B. Pierce, of All Souls' Church, a member of the fraternity. After a brief, but touching prayer, Dr. Pierce read some excellently chosen lines and closed with the remarkable poem written by Edwin Arnold just before his death. Besides the entire local chapter of his fraternity there were in attendance numerous classmates, professors and friends, including representatives of several Greek letter chapters at the University.

The body was taken to the Union Station Saturday evening, accompanied by the whole chapter. From there the funeral party left for Shreveport at 9:45 p. m. The pallbearers were Edwin L. Bullock, Jr., Carl H. Butman, Wilmarth Brown, Russell Duvall, Barrymore Hilliard and Joseph E. Healy. Mr. J. T. Cunningham of Shreveport, father of the deceased youth arrived in Washington late Friday night and took the body back to his home. He was accompanied by Archer Simpson of Gamma Eta chapter, who represented the Washington Delts at the funeral services in Shreveport.

Fred Cunningham is survived by both his father and mother, two sisters and two brothers. In his home town, he had a wide popularity and inquiries as to his welfare were received daily since the news of his illness was received. Beautiful floral tributes sent to the fraternity house by his friends were forwarded to his home. The chapter adopted resolutions of sympathy to his bereaved family which were conveyed by Mr. Simpson.

Coming from Shreveport last summer, Mr. Cunningham obtained a position in the Library of Congress and entered the University Law School in September. From the first he was very popular among his associates and made many warm friends.

His personality, his good fellowship, his humor, and his thoroughly gentlemanly conduct gained him the friendship and esteem of every one with whom he came in contact. Having letters of introduction to members of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity from mutual friends in his home town he became closely associated with them and was pledged and initiated into the fraternity in November. He immediately became a willing worker for the general cause, and although his duties

THE SENIOR MARSHALS.

Two years ago President Stockton instituted the custom of having a student selected from the members of the graduating classes of the several colleges and departments to lead the seniors at the exercises of Commencement Week, especially at the Baccalaureate sermon and Commencement itself. This student, he explained in his address to the Association of Class Presidents, was to be selected by the entire student body in recognition of his services to the University and more particularly the interests of the undergraduate body. He was to be called the Grand Marshal and he was to have two assistant similarly chosen.

The practice is an excellent one not only because it affords the student body generally to voice its approval of the zeal of its members in promoting its interests but because it establishes a custom that will in time become a tradition. It is a great pity that a University of the age of George Washington—ninety-four years—has so few traditions. Whether we ever had any and if so, what has become of them no one of the present generation knows. At any rate we need some badly and the selection of a student marshal at commencement is one which will help in filling that need.

To be successful the true spirit of the plan must be carried out. For practical reasons it is impossible for all students to cast their individual ballots. Therefore, it was deemed best to leave the selection to the Association of Class Presidents which directly represents every undergraduate. This Association must pick three members of the graduating classes to fill the three positions. Feeling that the matter is in large part a Senior affair it has asked the several senior classes to nominate candidates for the positions from which it will select three.

The matter now lies with the senior classes. If favoritism and politics are allowed to creep into their balloting the purpose of the election will be defeated and its benefits will be lost.

It is up to each senior to see that his class elects a man best fitted for the position, the man who has done the most for the advancement of student interests. Mere personal popularity should not be allowed to govern nor personal grievances permitted to prevent the election of the right man. Pick the best man. You know who he is.

as a new member were sometime arduous and trying, he proved himself to be capable of every task and served with inspiring good-will and enthusiasm.

At the Library of Congress, where he was employed in the Document Division he made the same excellent impression. His earnest endeavors won him promotion after but a few months' service. His fraternal spirit kindled enthusiasm among those whom he came to know in his work and the testimonials received from them speak well for his standing.

In his law classes he not only made himself popular with his classmates but with his instructors and professors as well. His standing in scholarship was very high.

Theta Delta Chi Springs Upset By

The beginning of the last week of the Grads Duckpin League finds the race tighter than ever with Sigma Chi still in the lead and Sigma Alpha Epsilon but a shade behind. Theta Delta Chi has practically cinched third place. Sigma Alpha Epsilon has completed its schedule of 24 games and the outcome of the race depends upon the showing made by Sigma Chi in its remaining six games. If it loses but one it wins the championship. If it drops two it will be tied with S. A. E. and a roll-off will be necessary. If it loses more than two the Euclid Street boys get the trophy.

Theta Delta Chi pulled a surprise by capturing two out of three from the leaders on Thursday, March 26. The first game went to the Sigma Chis but they slumped in the following games and lost both. Kappa Alpha pulled the April Fool stunt on Phi Sigma Kappa by winning their first game of the season.

Przasnysz.

There was a young lady of Przasnysz,
Who rode on the back of a phth-

When they asked, "Does it trot?"
She said, "certainly not;
It's a shrdlu and etain phthrzsnysz."

A sentry was giving close attention to his post in the neighborhood of a British Army camp in England, challenging returning stragglers after dark. The following is reported as an incident of his vigil:
"Who goes there?" called the sentry at the sound of approaching footsteps. "Coldstream Guards!" was the response.

"Pass, Coldstream Guards!" rejoined the sentry.
"Who goes there?" again challenged the sentry.
"Forty-ninth Highlanders!" returned the unseen pedestrian.
"Pass, Forty-ninth Highlanders!" "Who goes there?" sounded a third challenge.
"None of your damn business!" was the husky reply.
"Pass, Canadians!" acquiesced the sentry.

—Omaha World-Herald.

We notice that many of our fair friends (F street, table d'hote) are strong for this "Clean up—paint up" stuff.

Which is anything but "Clean up—paint up" weak.

It was at a funeral and a somewhat lachrymose old minister was officiating. Referring to his long acquaintance with the deceased, he said:
"Ah, brothers and sisters, many a time have I dandled this corpse on my knee."

—Harper's.

Willie, come tell the lady what we mean by "lachrymose."

"What are they going to call their baby?"
"I don't know. They named it Reginald."

—Michigan Gargoyle.

We think Susanna Cocroft is wasting time by staying in Washington. She ought to go somewhere where the poor girls need her.

But y'oughtta see the janitor stand round since Jesse Willard knocked the color out of the handsome ebony girl-stealer.

And these University suffragettes are worse than that; however, as we've said before, they'll have a chance to speak for themselves in the Suff Issue.

And slowly and majestically out of the unfathomable depths of the lung cavities of our venerable side-kick, H. G. B., comes the murmur: "The Suff Issue will surely be sufficient."

The first of a series of Kappa Sigma luncheons was held Thursday, April 1, at the Ebbitt House. Many of the alumni and active members were present. Another luncheon is planned for next Thursday.

The annual Spring Tea of the local chapter of Kappa Sigma was given Sunday, March 28. More than two hundred friends of the fraternity attended. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and a delightful musical program was a feature of the entertainment.

Last Saturday evening Phi Chi held another of their enjoyable smokers, the main event of which was the able talk by Dr. Charles W. Richardson on "Removing Foreign Bodies from the Lungs." The subject was not only instructive but highly interesting as Dr. Richardson illustrated the talk with the actual instruments—marvels of the modern scientific instrument-makers' skill. He demonstrated how it was possible to reach the most remote air vesicle through the larynx with complicated extension appliances; he also exhibited a rubber eraser, the largest foreign body ever removed from the lungs via the larynx. After his speech true "Doodle Bug Spirit" held full sway—including sumptuous "eats" and various excellent instrumental and vocal selections. The attendance included not only the active chapter but a large number of the prominent associate members.
